Current FAQ's- What varieties are still in season?...Can we still get Florida Honeybells?...What's next?

February is TEMPLE TIME! Florida's most flavorful, "Heirloom" eating orange is shipping now! Did the rest of the Florida Honeybells ever ripen up? Yes...a few keep ripening up each week.

My son Matt's addicted to Temple Oranges! (They're actually a Tangor- Half Orange/Half Tangerine) Like all growers, he's a big Temple fan who raves about their incredible aroma and amazing, full bodied flavor. He is constantly "reintroducing" our store customers to this ol' time, Florida favorite. It's zipper skin makes it a delight to peel and eat out of hand or squeeze into incredible juice.

Florida Honeybell Update- We finished shipping "J" (January) and "LJ" (late Jan-early Feb) dated Florida Honeybell packages. By the time you receive this mail we should have completed "F" (February) dated packages as well. We've reopened Honeybells for limited ordering. We'll keep clipping them as they ripen 'til they're gone.

Please keep in mind the U.S. is currently experiencing record cold temps in February that have delayed some shipments to affected areas.*

Valencia Oranges are ready early! They're the world's most popular juice orange. Florida is renowned for growing the juiciest and sweetest Valentias, literally bursting with rich, golden juice. They're also terrific sliced in cool, fruit salads. We typically ship Valentias from late February right on into June.

February is NATIONAL GRAPEFRUIT MONTH! Now is when our locally grown, Indian River Ruby Red Grapefruit reach their absolute prime of juicy goodness.

That's all for now and may God Bless you with the gift of good health!
